Taunted for Drown Verdict Juror Offers Fight

THROWS OFF COAT AS DEFENSE

Carleton Resents Jibes of Fellow Jurors for Freeing Woman

Almost Come to Blows While Deliberating on Peil Case

Insinuations made against the jurymen who returned a verdict of acquittal in the murder trial of Mrs. Millie Drown, which ended Tuesday, nearly disrupted the harmony of a jury which was deliberating last night in the case of Cost Peil, charged with burglary in the Superior Court.

On the jury which heard the evidence in the Peil case were seven members who sat in the Drown case. When the jurors retired to deliberate shortly after 5 o'clock Juror C. E. Carleton of 2523 San Pablo avenue, Berkeley, commenced to argue for conviction.

Several of the new jurors took exception to the stand he had assumed, declaring that he and his fellow-Drown case jurymen had been eager enough to free a woman who had murdered her husband, but they wanted to convict an unfortunate man who had taken what he believed he had a right to take.

JUROR OFFERS TO FIGHT. One word led to another, and finally Carleton, resenting the remarks made against him, is said to have pulled off his coat and threatened combat with Juror Neal Nelson of 1407 Charles street, Alameda.

For a time the situation was exceedingly tense, according to a report in circulation about the court house today. Blows were threatened, but before the would-be combat could "mix it," other jurors intervened, and then a wrangling match is said to have ensued with many of the former Drown jurors arraigned against the five other jurors.

"There was a quarrel," said Juror Hans F. Sorenson, of 163 Moss avenue. "I did not participate in it, being in discussion in another part of the jury room. It was quieted, however, and I do not think that it could be considered more than trivial."

Other jurors who were in the room refused to openly discuss the matter but it was admitted that there had been a serious breach in the harmony of the jury. At any event, a verdict of guilty of burglary in the second degree was returned. In view of the circumstances of the case against Peil, Judge Ogden readily consented to refer the matter to the probation office. Peil had been accused of stealing a cash register from a store in Clay

Calls Athletics in Our Public Schools 'Almost Criminal'

NEW YORK, April 2.—Football, basketball and long distance races in the common and high schools were characterized today as almost criminal by Dr. Arthur A. Knoch of the Walnut Hills high schools of Cincinnati before the American physical education convention.

"Public officials ought to know," he said, "that such strenuous physical exertion exhausts almost all organs and that a dilated heart is the natural result of the unreasonably prolonged tension incident to such games. Our ideal should culminate on the education of mentally and physically sound and harmoniously developed men and women whose gait, posture and bodily movement would arouse admiration."

REORGANIZE PURCHASING BY CITY

Friction Between Agent and Departments Eliminated

Heads of the city departments met in the city council chambers this afternoon to consider a proposed reorganization of the methods in vogue in the office of purchasing agent T. Kalas. The plan of reorganization has been formulated by G. E. Wade, chief deputy in the office of Auditor George E. Gross, and Verdie Smith, head of the efficiency bureau of the civil service commission. It is the result of several weeks spent by Wade and Smith in investigating conditions with a view to eliminating the causes of friction between the purchasing agent's department and heads of departments.

The trouble came to a head over a month ago when a mistake of $1100 in connection with the contract for the Washington street municipal railroad was overlooked by the purchasing agent and almost passed over in the city council.

WORK NOT KEPT UP. It had been shown prior to that time that the purchasing agent's department was almost a month behind in clerical work and that there had been difficulty in passing claims ex-

PERJURY IS IMPLIED IN DIVORCE

Son of Capitalist Charged With Cruelty; Denies Statements

Threatened With Death, She Says; Seeks Separation

What was the real trouble behind the divorce which today separated George D. Slater from H. A. Slater, son of U. M. Slater, millionaire of Reno, Nev., and Oakland, and president of the U. M. Slater Packing Company? The complaint, charging extreme cruelty, was filed on February 9, and the proceedings were carried quietly through the legal channels until the testimony taken before Court Commissioner Crowell was finally passed upon by Judge W. H. Donahue today.

There was an intimation that perjured testimony may have been given. Commissioner Crowell questioned the story told by Mrs. Slater, who was one of the two witnesses examined during the hearing. The defendant was represented by Attorney D. C. Dutton, who refused to cross-examine Mrs. Slater or her husband's niece, Miss Edythe Slater, who appeared with her.

By a stipulation entered into March 13, it was provided that Mrs. Slater should not ask for judgment for payment of any money from her husband and that no costs of the action should be assessed against him.

Slater has intimated to friends that his marital experience cost him many

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA, April 2.—Will the university send still another of its amateur thespians into the real world of professional stage-dom? Students are asking this question when they contemplate the increasing importance in college theatricals of Miss Helen Walters. This week the capable young lady, who is to have an important part in "The Countess Cathleen," one of the plays the English Club will present next

SHOW PLACE HERE

Shredded Wheat Company's Plant to Be Residence District Attraction.

A magnificent manufacturing show place in a residence district of Oakland, with all the adornments that the architect and landscape gardener can supply, is to be built by the Shredded Wheat Biscuit Company, whose main plant at Niagara Falls is one of the mecca for tourists in the East.

It has practically been decided to locate the Oakland factory, almost a duplicate of that in New York state, on the vacant land owned by the Realty Syndicate and the San Francisco-Oakland Terminal Railway, between Twelfth and Fourteenth, Poplar and Union streets. This is the junction of the Twelfth and Poplar streets Key Route line and a transfer point.

Knowland Granted Committee Hearing

WASHINGTON, April 2.—The House Foreign Affairs Committee today granted a hearing for tomorrow on Representative Knowland's resolution calling on the president and State Department for all diplomatic correspondence between the United States and Great Britain concerning the Panama Canal toll dispute.

The committee was not disposed to grant the hearing, but Knowland threatened to bring the matter on the floor of the House unless heard on the resolution. The committee, a majority of whom are Democrats, probably will pigeon-hole the resolution after the hearing.

ARREST MAIL THIEF

David Williams, Employed on Liner, Held for Looting Postal Sacks.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 2.—Drafts, money orders and naval paymaster's checks aggregating approximately $4900 were stolen from the mail room of the Oceanic Steamship Company's liner Ventura by David Williams, an Australian mess boy 24 years old, according to postal inspectors, while the Ventura, which arrived here March 26 was three days from port. Information that a mail sack had disappeared in advance by wireless and inspectors have been working on the case since then.

COMPANY MUST EXPLAIN. The Oceanic Steamship Company may be asked by the government to explain how Williams had access to the mail room. He says the door was open and that he simply walked in, lifted a pouch and hid it until he could get away.

week at the Hearst Greek theater, has been walking the stage in San Francisco with the Stratford players to get a taste of actual professional stagecraft.

Miss Walters scored a considerable hit in the last English Club production, "The Vikings at Helgeland," when she sustained with power and dignity the role of Dagny, one of the wives of chieftains in that sturdy drama. This year she has been picked for a part in "Countess Cathleen," and has shown renewed evidences of ability in the rehearsals so far held. Her many campus friends are predicting success for her if she chooses a professional career.

Under the direction of Coach Garrett Holme rehearsals for the plays are proceeding successfully. Yesterday afternoon the first costume rehearsal was held. The casts of the two plays, the second being Euderman's one-act drama, "Tala," are as follows:

TWO SHIPS CRUSHED IN ICE

Sealing Steamer Newfoundland and Southern Cross Lost

343 Men in Crews of Both Vessels; Many Bodies Picked Up

S. T. JOHNS, N. F., Apr. 2.—The big sealing vessel Newfoundland has been crushed in the ice just south of Belle Isle Strait, and the greater part of her crew of 170 men are believed to have perished.

Steamers in the vicinity picked up several bodies and a few of the crew, who survived, on the ice floes to which they escaped when their vessel went down.

Fifty of the crew have been accounted for in this manner. Most of them were dead when found, and several others were dying.

Fear for Another

Great alarm is felt for the sealing steamer the Southern Cross, also believed to have been enmeshed in the ice. The first reports received said that it was a part of the crew of the Southern Cross that had been picked up, and that they were being brought into port by the Newfoundland.

There are 173 men on board the Southern Cross. She was due here Tuesday. The storm that has raged over Newfoundland for three days, continued today unabated.

Reports received here today state that the sealing vessel Newfoundland was crushed in the ice south of Belle Isle Strait, and the greater part of her crew of 170 men are believed to have perished.

No word has been received from the Southern Cross, but it is believed that she is still in the ice.

LESSON IN FIGURES FOR THE WISE BUSINESS MAN

When you advertise in THE TRIBUNE you get results, and in order to secure returns the advertiser must have circulation. THE TRIBUNE seeks only quality business; that is to say, it will not take a chance on shadow advertising for the purpose of trying to swell a record. This paper will not take chance or shadow advertising, the kind that fails to pay. THE TRIBUNE'S circulation is over 40,000 daily and that is why we can give the reliable merchant the service he demands.

The test in the newspaper business is this: What paper carries the bulk of the advertising? Here is the record; it speaks for itself. Let the merchant digest these facts:

Comparative advertising space in leading newspapers of March, 1914, of Oakland and San Francisco newspapers:
Examiner	69,227 inches
TRIBUNE	43,670 inches
Chronicle	37,070 inches

street. He claims that he had owned an interest in the business and was in the position of a creditor, therefore entitled to liquidate the debt himself. When arraigned before Judge Ogden, Pell said he would plead guilty, but owing to the peculiar circumstances of the case, the court insisted upon appointing an attorney to defend him.

OTHER JURORS IN THE CASE

Other jurors in the Pell case who sat in the Drown case were Charles E. Adams, 322 Duane street, Alameda; George W. Randall, 2241 Rose street, Berkeley; Carl Berlin, 2514 School street, Thomas Egan, F. J. Garcia, Those who were in the faction that took exception to the verdict in the Drown case, as compared to the Pell case were Neal Nelson, J. E. Greener, 2247 Grove street, F. G. Eiben, 325 Kearney avenue, E. Corwin, 1515 Fifty-second avenue, and E. H. Bunde, 261 Wadsworth street. There was considerable discussion about the matter around the court house today, owing to the sensational Drown trial having been brought up again and the verdict of the jury criticised by other jurors on the panel.

CARLETON'S CRITICISM

"There was no criticism directed personally at me," said Juror Carleton, "but I certainly took exception to the insinuations against the jurors who had sat in the Drown case. There were words exchanged but the matter was of no great consequence. However, I do not think that it was any place for another juror to make such remarks as he did."

The jurymen sought to belittle the occurrence, but admitted there had been an eruption for a time being.

OAKLAND MEN ROTARIANS' HOSTS

State Delegates Are Luncheon Guests; Shown City by Committees.

Will Plan Campaign for International Session at San Francisco.

Nearly two hundred Rotarians, members of the Oakland Rotary Club and delegates to the great Interstate Convention of Rotary Clubs of California, gathered in this city today, where they were entertained at a luncheon at the Hotel and a significant trip to the city. Following the trip they proceeded to San Francisco, where tonight the delegates at an elaborate dinner will be shown the city by the local committees. The delegates arrived in Oakland this morning, and spent the forenoon at the Oakland Commercial Club, where they were entertained by Managing Director Joseph B. Caine. The luncheon took place at the Hotel, and was held shortly after noon. It was a most enjoyable affair, and the delegates were shown the city by the local committees. The delegates included visitors from Los Angeles, San Jose, Stockton, Sacramento, San Francisco and other cities. Robert Robertson was director of the program. Following the luncheon the visitors were shown the city.

The delegates in San Francisco tonight will outline their plans for the campaign for 1915. This will be held at Houston, Texas, where the next Rotary convention is to be held. The local clubs will make their bid for the next convention, to embrace all Rotary organizations in the world.

GOLDEN WHEEL A FEATURE.

The feature of today's luncheon was the showing of the "Golden Wheel," an emblem of the Rotary organizations, inscribed with an invitation to the exposition. This wheel, in charge of several delegates, will be shown at all Rotary organizations in America, Canada and England, as well as in Ireland. Fred Golding of Los Angeles was the originator of the plan, and is one of the delegates in charge of the wheel.

The Rotarians were met this morning by a local committee composed of Louis Hagen, Clem Adv. Lee, Bertillon, Lynn Stanley, S. Samuels and others. Several prominent officials of State Rotary organizations answered to the address of President Bridges, these including Roger Andrews of the Stockton Rotarians, Neil Ross of Stockton, Fred Golding of Los Angeles, A. V. Faught, president of the Stockton Rotarians, and Henry Hoff, president of the San Jose organization. "This meeting means much," declared President Bridges. "It is the start of a post-graduate movement that will probably take the Rotarians of the state, united, to Houston to wage the campaign for the international meeting of the fair. This meeting will help all California, and will make the state famous in all the principal cities on both sides of the Atlantic."

"We are glad to see Oakland," declared Faught. "Through our magazine, the Rotarian, and through Oakland's famous boosters, we have heard of the city before. This welcome simply clinches our opinion."

The delegates will be entertained in San Francisco by Rotarians there. The entire party of delegates contains about 100 men. Some, however, had not arrived in time to visit Oakland, but will be in San Francisco tonight.

Praise for Rev. Herbert E. Hays Centennial Church Is Flourishing

Annual Meeting Is Held by Congregation; Reports Read

The annual congregational meeting of the Centennial Presbyterian church was held last evening in the church auditorium on Twenty-fourth avenue, East Oakland. R. E. Williams acted as moderator and W. F. D. Brown, clerk.

Reports were presented for the past year by all of the organizations of the church and showed a healthy growth in the activities of the church and its influence in the community, as well as a substantial bank balance in the accounts of the treasurer of the board of directors.

The aggregate of different reports submitted showed that approximately $4000 had been accumulated and disbursed in the work of the church during the fiscal year.

R. M. Mull and Carl Johnson, whose term as elders expired in 1914, were re-elected for a new term of three years.

After a spirited election the following officers were elected: Isaac McCurdy, S. E. Emberson, Alex. MacNaughton, J. A. MacNaughton, H. Haight, W. F. D. Brown and William H. Hackett.

Rev. H. E. Hays led in devotional services preceding the business meeting. The pastor, Rev. Hays, and his wife were credited in the church narrative for a very active year in the church work and it is largely through their efforts, together with the sincere spirit of harmony existing among the members, that the church has accomplished so much.

The financial condition of the church is reported to be in a most flourishing state. The aggregate of different reports submitted showed that approximately $4000 had been accumulated and disbursed in the work of the church during the fiscal year.

ter, president of the big concern, has just left Oakland, after approving the site, which means that the approval of the corporation's other heads will be merely a formality. Vice-President and General Manager Mason is to come out from Niagara Falls in the early future to inspect the property, but it is likely that this will also be of a formal nature.

Porter left Oakland enthusiastic over the proposed location of the concern's newest plant here, having admired the city for its residence and business, as well as its manufacturing advantages. He was shown over the city by Vice-President and General Manager P. F. Mordock of the Realty Syndicate, who has been working assiduously to bring the great factory to Oakland.

Murdock declined today to confirm the report of the location of the plant at Twelfth and Poplar streets, confining his admissions to the statement that the factory would be built, if the city and the syndicate, in residence section and that the property is owned by the San Francisco-Oakland Terminal railway and by the Realty Syndicate.

The plant, like that at Niagara Falls, will be surrounded by trees, flowers, plants and lawns, and a building will be artistic. Visitors will be welcomed and served with lunches. The factory will cost several hundred thousand dollars and employ an immense force of workers.

TOLL STORM AHEAD

Treaty Dispute Arbitration Is Asked During the Lull.

WASHINGTON, April 2.—Informal discussions in the Panama tolls controversy, centering upon the various bills awaiting action in the Senate, continued today, pending consideration by the inter-oceanic canal committee on the administration's repeal bill scheduled to begin next Tuesday. Senators characterized the situation now existing as the lull that precedes the storm and declared that once the actual opening of the fight on the floor is reached, a spectacular scene would be staged.

It was apparent today among both the administration and anti-repeal forces that the issue would not be permitted to be effected by the lull. Persistent efforts will be made, it was said by friends of the bill, to prevent any unnecessary delay. Senator O'Gorman, chairman of the inter-oceanic canal committee and leading opponent of the repeal, reiterated his intention to call a meeting of the committee Tuesday, and Senator Owen, leading the administration forces, asserted that public hearings on the bill were unnecessary and would serve only to prolong the controversy.

TREATY DISPUTES. Senator Norris was prepared today to demand immediate consideration of his resolution, providing for arbitration of the treaty disputes involved in the tolls controversy. Senator Tamm was ready to take advantage of the first opportunity to bring up his measure calling for postponement of consideration of the tolls question until President Wilson submits the details of the foreign relations existing between the United States and other countries affected by the repeal.

Senator Jones furnished another possibility for action today. He declared his intention to press his resolution providing that the president furnish the senate with the names of all nations which have protested against the tolls exemption clause and was resolved to force it into early action.

Estimates carefully compiled by the leaders of the two factions show that the administration forces have the requisite votes to pass the repeal bill by a narrow margin only.

more of his stealings might be hard to pass, and tore up paper representing $2200 more. The arrest was brought about through the attempt yesterday of Joseph Horn, who says he is a vaudeville actor, to buy a pair of shoes with a money order for $100. The clerk was suspicious and telephoned for a detective. Horn was shadowed and his trail led to Williams' hotel.

WILLIAMS MAKES CONFESSION.

The two were found in conference today and Williams confessed. The first confession came out of a police headquarters placed the amount of the theft at $30,000, but a careful check by postal inspectors and Williams' own detailed confession reduced the figures greatly.

Horn says he first met Williams on the voyage and knew nothing of the robbery until Williams told him of it and persuaded him to help try to pass some of the money orders.

On the last voyage of the Ventura to Australia 58 parcel post packages were stolen and the inspectors believe an organized system of robbing the mails had been worked out through Williams denies that he had accomplices.

BEACH REVENUE CUTTER HARLEY SPRINGS LEAK

SAN FRANCISCO, April 2.—The United States revenue cutter Harley, one of the oldest and smallest craft in the service of the government, sprang a leak today while lying off Meigs' Wharf, and was beached in the cove nearby to prevent her sinking.

Shortly before noon Attorney Gillogie, representing Campbell with Sandersen, called upon Judge Deasy and explained that Mrs. Susan Barth Campbell was anxious to drop the case. The judge said that he would make his decision from the bench and did so by delivering the ultimatum that Mrs. Campbell must appear in person.

Woolner Reports on Conference in South

City Attorney Ben F. Woolner informally reported to the city council this morning on his visit to Los Angeles, to attend the conference concerning the framing of an enabling act to permit the formation of consolidated city and county governments. The conference was attended by City Attorneys Albert L. Stevens of Los Angeles, Percy V. Long of San Francisco and Ben F. Woolner of Oakland.

Woolner contended that in the framing of such an act, provision should be made to guard the present boundaries of counties, that counties might not be broken up. This was agreed to. The three attorneys were instructed by their various administrations to work together in framing the proposed act, which will be presented by petition for the vote of the people to be enacted as a constitutional amendment.

By a Deputation of Representatives of 104, the people of the State of California, do hereby petition the people of the State of California, to be enacted as a constitutional amendment.

fifty bodies of the crew of the Newfoundland.

There is no word here from the sealer Southern Cross and this ship also is supposed to be lost with all on board. If so, the death list on the two boats will exceed 300. The sealing fleet sailed for the ice fields on March 10th.

CREW NUMBERS 170.

NEW YORK, April 2.—Bevering & Co., agents here for the Red Cross line, owners of several steamers, including the Florizel, now on sealing duty, have received a message today announcing that the sealing steamer Newfoundland and the greater part of her crew had been lost off Cape Race. The Florizel is believed to be engaged in the rescue work.

A private message from St. John's, N. F., says the steamer Newfoundland was caught in a blizzard while sealing and over 100 of her crew were frozen to death. The Red Cross steamer Florizel picked up fifty men dead and about 170.

The total loss of life on the Newfoundland is about 170.

WAS SHACKLETON'S SHIP.

The Southern Cross is the ship which Shackleton used in his Antarctic expedition.

The Newfoundland was owned by the Newfoundland Sealing Company, Limited. The steamer was built in Quebec in 1872 and registered 919 tons gross. She was 212 feet long and had been engaged in sealing for a number of years.

The Southern Cross was commanded by Captain John Clark. She was formerly named the Pollux and was built in 1886. She registered 537 tons gross and was 126 feet long.

FIFTY DEAD ON ICE.

MONTREAL, Que., April 2.—"The worst disaster to the sealing fleet for over twenty years" was the list of a wireless message received here today by the Marconi Company from the Cape Race station.

Sealers from the steamer Newfoundland, the message added, "were caught in a blizzard. Fifty men were found dead on the ice. Men from other ships are searching for the remainder of the crew."

MUST APPEAR IN COURT IN PERSON

Mrs. Walter Greer Campbell Is Anxious to Drop Charges; Shrinks Notoriety.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 2.—At 2 o'clock this afternoon Mrs. Susan Barth Campbell of Berkeley, appeared before Police Judge Deasy and openly stated her desire to have the proceedings against Walter Greer Campbell dismissed.

"There is a great deal of sickness at home," she explained, "and I desire to be shielded from the notoriety attendant on a court trial. I think it is best for me to say that I do not wish to prosecute."

JUDGE DEASY THEREUPON DISMISSED THE CASE.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 2.—Susan Barth Campbell, of Berkeley, first wife of Walter Greer Campbell, the millionaire recently arrested in Portland, will be forced to appear again in Police Judge Deasy's court, despite the fact that she now shrinks from the notoriety of a trial and is anxious to drop the charges she has made against her former husband.

This morning the magistrate refused to dismiss the accusation of abandonment and neglect against Campbell at the request of Attorney Sandersen, who represents Mrs. Campbell.

He indicated, however, that he would have no objection to dropping the matter provided the woman herself was present and requested the dismissal.

On the charge of issuing a false draft for $50 and casting it at the Sutter Hotel, Campbell obtained a continuance of one week. It is believed that this accusation also will fall through as there is little disposition to prosecute, and it will be necessary to find Attorney Marshall, who is said to have promised to endorse the Campbell paper. If the latter cannot be located the matter will be dismissed next Thursday.

Shortly before noon Attorney Gillogie, representing Campbell with Sandersen, called upon Judge Deasy and explained that Mrs. Susan Barth Campbell was anxious to drop the case. The judge said that he would make his decision from the bench and did so by delivering the ultimatum that Mrs. Campbell must appear in person.

Swell Club Officers In Excise Arrests

DENVER, April 2.—All officers, about two dozen, of most of the fashionable and exclusive clubs of Denver were arrested last yesterday on warrants based on direct information filed against them by the district attorney's office, charging them with the criminal offense of serving intoxicating liquors without a license. All were released on $500 bond, except the officers of the Denver Country Club, whose bonds were fixed at $1,000. This discrimination was made because the Denver Country Club is located in a district of the city in which the sale of liquor is totally prohibited.

Hearings will be had on the information next Friday. The witnesses for the state will be the same as those who appeared before the Denver county grand jury recently when it investigated alleged infractions of the liquor laws.

SACRAMENTO, April 2.—All exempt volunteer firemen and the veterans of the Spanish war must pay their poll taxes, no exemption being granted them from this tax by the constitution or any of the codes. This opinion was rendered by Attorney-General Webb to District Attorney McKensie of Contra Costa county, who had inquired what answer should be made to volunteer firemen and Spanish war veterans who had asked an exemption from the poll tax.

All members of the National Guard, whether officers or privates, must pay the state auto license tax the same as any private citizen. This opinion was rendered by Attorney-General Webb to Adjutant-General Forbes, who had communicated to Webb the query of Lieutenant James D. Murphy of the Coast Artillery whether he was not exempt on account of his position in the militia.

Sacramento in Wonder at Skin Cure

Mrs. J. B. Fay Writes of Remarkable Experience With D. D. D.

For three years, I suffered with eczema, which was a constant torment. I tried every remedy known to me, but to no avail. I was in a state of despair when I learned of the existence of D. D. D. I purchased a bottle and used it according to the directions. The result was most remarkable. The itching and burning ceased, and the skin became smooth and healthy. I am now free from the disease and can testify to the efficacy of D. D. D.

Sincerely and gratefully, MRS. J. B. FAY, 1219 1/2 Fifth St., Sacramento, Calif.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this third day of February, 1914. C. A. KILPATRICK, (Notary Public in and for the county of Sacramento, State of California.)

KNOWLAND SUPPORTERS PLAN STATE ORGANIZATION

Congressman Praised for His Great Work at Washington

Plans for a complete state organization to further the candidacy of Congressman Joseph R. Knowland as aspirant to the United States Senate to succeed Senator Perkins, were made last night at an enthusiastic meeting of the Knowland Republican club No. 1, held at Lincoln hall. Present, Clinton G. Dodge, president of the club, which was addressed by several friends of the senator, and at which outlined plans for the state organization were described. The entire state, according to the plans of the friends of the congressman, will be covered by Knowland clubs, which will form into fighting organizations to carry on the Knowland campaign. An executive committee, formed last night, will superintend the work, forming these new clubs. The committee, consisting of Thomas Harkins of Alameda, Fred Campbell of Oakland and Louis Leavelle of Berkeley.

TO ESTABLISH HEADQUARTERS.

will be established at once by the central Knowland club, which will serve as the clearing house for the workers in the Knowland campaign, and plans are also under way for the formation of a Young Woman's Knowland Republican club.

"We are here tonight," said President Clinton G. Dodge, in opening the meeting, "as Republicans, Republicans as represented by the principles of Abraham Lincoln; such Republicans as is Joseph R. Knowland, who has done so much for the furtherance of his candidacy to be a popular movement, not a machine man, and so every member of this club and of all the other Knowland clubs to be formed will have equal voice in its work."

MANY RETURN TO FOLD.

"It is gratifying to see so many Republicans coming back to the fold. They strayed, but are rallying again now that they know Joseph Knowland. True, I did it because I had been disfranchised; because true Republicans in California were not allowed to vote for a true Republican candidate—anyway, I want to say right now that I'm as good and as true a Republican as ever, and I and others simply voted the Democratic ticket last time out of spite. We wouldn't vote for half a Republican; we voted for a whole Democrat."

AGAINST U. S. INTERESTS.

"I will never vote for a supposed reform movement, which is against the best interests of the United States, again. This reform in California is a reform in business, and it will take us twenty years to catch up our old standing again. We stand tonight behind the old and tried people by a man elected to uphold the laws of the United States and not the laws of England. As I look on Lincoln's picture I am ashamed."

"Tonight when I say that Lincoln represents the real Republicanism I speak the truth. There will come the day when California will stray back from these gods and Mr. Knowland, in the Senate, will do us honor as he has in the past."

"I am in a queer position," said Frank Farish, the next speaker. "I voted the other ticket at the last election. True, I did it because I had been disfranchised; because true Republicans in California were not allowed to vote for a true Republican candidate—anyway, I want to say right now that I'm as good and as true a Republican as ever, and I and others simply voted the Democratic ticket last time out of spite. We wouldn't vote for half a Republican; we voted for a whole Democrat."

Tells How She Was Made
Well by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

New Orleans, La.—"I take pleasure in writing these lines to express my gratitude to you. I am only 16 years old and work in a tobacco factory. I have been a very sick girl but I have improved wonderfully since taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and am now looking fine and feeling a thousand times better."

—Miss ANELLA JAQUILLARD, 3861 Tchoupitoulas St., New Orleans, La.

St. Clair, Pa.—"My mother was alarmed because I was troubled with suppression and had pains in my back and side, and severe headaches. I had pimples on my face, my complexion was sallow, my sleep was disturbed, I had nervous spells, was very tired and had no ambition. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has worked like a charm in my case and has regulated me. I worked in a mill among hundreds of girls and have recommended your medicine to many of them."

—Miss ESTELLA MAGUIRE, 110 Thwing St., St. Clair, Pa.

There is nothing that teaches more than experience. Therefore, such letters from girls who have suffered and were restored to health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound should be a lesson to others. The same remedy is within reach of all.

OLD CHURCH SOLD

St. Paul's Episcopal Disposes of Its Former Site for $52,000.

A happy outcome of the financial difficulties of St. Paul's Episcopal church has been brought about through the sale of the old church property at the northeast corner of Grand avenue and Webster street, papers in the transfer of which were recorded today.

The name of Fred E. Reed, the Oakland real estate broker, appears as the buyer, but in reality, the property has been sold to out-of-town investors, whose identity is not disclosed. The consideration is $52,000. The church holdings consist of a frontage of 125 feet on Webster street, 340 feet on Grand avenue and the same on Twenty-third street. The old church of St. Paul's parish, a shingled structure, stands on the east end of the land sold, occupying a frontage of 100 feet on Grand avenue.

The edifice and site were about to be sold several weeks ago to the Swedish Methodist church of Oakland, when it was found that the church extension board of the denomination was financially unable to parish had counted on the sale of the property as its new house of worship at Montecito avenue and Bay place.

With the monthly payments that are to be made on a contract of sale to Reed and the pledges of church members as far as needed, the church will be able to meet its obligations without hardship. A policy of retrenchment was recently entered upon, so that payments on the debt of the church could be made.

to sell to the Swedish Methodists, and $241 in cash monthly payments was paid by members but these subscriptions may be required only in part, after immediate debts have been paid. The total indebtedness of the church is now $200,000.

A vestry meeting is to be held tonight to formally approve the property sale. Petition for confirmation of the sale of the property was filed in the Superior Court today. The deal provides for five payments, four of $10,000 each and the final payment of $12,000. It is asked that the vestry meeting of the parish be permitted to take a mortgage for deferred payments on the property. The terms of the deal provide that the old church shall not be torn down until the debt has been reduced to $33,000.

Broker Reed stated today that already negotiations were on for a resale of that portion of the St. Paul's property occupied by the old church.

Aeroplane Races From Seven Cities Begin

LONDON, April 2.—A series of aeroplane races from seven European capitals to Monaco began simultaneously today. There were four entrants for the flight from London. Pierre Verrier was the first to start, leaving at 10 o'clock for the Channel. After reaching the channel Verrier abandoned his flight, owing to a dense fog.

The competitors starting from London must make stops at Calais and at Dieppe. Their time limit is fifteen days to complete the flight of 800 miles.

CONFRONTED WITH SUE. At any rate, when he returned from Los Angeles he was confronted with the divorce action and at once consulted an attorney. The wife's charges of cruelty were sustained.

"He couldn't support me as I had been taken care of before," Mrs. Slater told Commissioner Crowell. "At the time of our marriage in Oakland, July 20, 1912, I hadn't seen the part of his nature that I afterward saw."

Plaintiff then related that on November 23 her husband had returned to their home at 781 Brooklyn avenue after she had retired with his niece, Miss Edythe Slater. Her story of the incident which occurred is to the effect that her husband demanded that his niece return to her own room. When his wife refused to permit it, he forcibly ejected Miss Slater and then flourished a revolver before his wife. Afterward Mrs. Slater said he told her "by her sitting up in bed and looking at him she saved her life."

"Next day he told me that he had intended to kill me, the girl and himself," testified Mrs. Slater. "He threatened to throw me off the sleeping porch and break my neck," related Miss Slater.

During the course of the examination Commissioner Crowell asked of Attorney Dutton, who represented Slater:

"Are you advised by your client that any of the testimony given today is perjured or untrue?"

"I am," was the reply.

"Isn't it your duty to the state to cross-examine the witness?" further queried the commissioner. "This lady may have willfully perjured herself."

REFUSES TO QUESTION. Attorney Dutton explained that that was the reason he had particularly asked the commissioner to cross-examine the witness, as he believed the usual procedure would suffice and he "just as complete."

of the charges. The records will speak for that and that is as far as we would go," responded Attorney Dutton, ending that line of examination.

Mrs. Slater testified that the home at 781 Brooklyn avenue was her separate property. She further alleged that she had contributed to the support of her husband during the year and a half of their married life.

"I didn't think that he would marry me unless he could support me," she said. "I thought he had property and employment. He did little else but ride around in his machine. I paid his fare to Los Angeles in December when we separated," said the wife.

CITY PURCHASING IS REORGANIZED

Proposed New System Is Presented to Heads of Departments.

tion between the departments. It was quietly decided by the administration that a new method was essential to carrying out the work of the department and Wade and Smith were detailed to go into the department and prepare a method of reorganization. No announcement was made of the work of the men have been at work for several weeks without the facts being generally known.

They submitted their report a few days ago and the matter now goes over with by heads of departments who will have much of the work of making the changes. If the system is approved it will be submitted to the city council and formally adopted.

REMOVES FRICTION. Under the new plan Kalas has been relieved of clerical detail that does not properly belong to him, but which he had asked to have placed in his office. This change reduces the aggregate amount of clerical work at the centralization in Kalas' office necessitated a duplication of records. The new system also removes the causes of friction and expedites the payment of bills.

It also increases the efficiency of the purchasing agent's office as Kalas will be able to devote his entire time to the essential duties signified by his official title. He will be free to become familiar with the needs of the department, and will be able to standardize supplies.

The new system places additional duties upon City Engineer L. E. Jordan and provides for a better check upon expenditures and additional safe guards against irregularities. It will not necessitate additional clerical help.

KNOCKS "EMERGENCY CLAIMS." A strong feature of the system is that it absolutely prohibits what has been known as emergency claims. It provides that no other market purchases shall be made by any department under any circumstances as this former plan prevented the placing of definite responsibilities. All purchases in the open market, and such as are not covered by contract, must be made by the department through the purchasing agent. This will do away with a great cause of wastefulness which was formerly operative in the city.

The new system divides claims against the city into two classes, those made under contract and those made without contract.

The contract claims are divided into three classes as follows: Those made for varying quantities and for varying times and for provisions such as hay and rocks; two claims for a fixed quantity of a long term contract, such as an automobile; three claims for specified improvements.

CONTRACT CLAIMS. All these claims under contract are removed from the jurisdiction of the purchasing agent and returned to the various departments under the city council. The purchasing agent, however, will be requested to advise conditions and will be required during the time intervening between the calling for bids and the receiving of same, to attempt to create competition.

The method of handling the second class of claims not under contract and covering purchases made in the open market, largely simplifies the method now in vogue while providing for a perfect check upon expenditures and expedition in the handling of claims.

CAL EWING'S BOOKS TO RECEIVE AUDITING

SAN FRANCISCO, April 2.—At the request of Supervisor Edward L. Nolan, who advocates a large increase of this city's baseball park license tax, the Finance Committee of the Supervisors has directed its expert accountant, William Dodge, to examine the books and accounts showing the receipts and expenditures of Cal Ewing and his associates for each baseball season for several years past.

Ewing offered to permit his books and accounts for examination when Nolan's proposed rates of the license fee to $5000 a year was discussed in committee some weeks ago. Ewing claimed that the receipts did not justify such a high boost of the tax. He now pays $75 per quarter.

The Police Committee of the Board is to take the proposition up again when Dodge's report is ready. Nolan believes the Supervisor Himes of the committee will vote with him to recommend an increase.

For the first time Ewing has sent complimentary season tickets to the Supervisors, with reserved seat coupons for dates at the Valencia-street grounds and a promise of coupons to come for the new park when opened. The members of the Board never before received baseball passes.

Superior Nolan has returned his season tickets and coupons to Ewing with thanks.

Reinforcements Reach Federal General Velasco at Torreon.

BULLETIN.
WASHINGTON, April 2.—President Wilson announced today that John Lind, his personal representative in Mexico, would sail for the United States from Vera Cruz tomorrow on a vacation, but would return to Mexico after he had a rest.

MEXICO, Mexico, April 2.—Out of the maze of reports and counter reports concerning the activities of General Francisco Villa at Torreon last night and early today the assumption was drawn that fighting continues. This was based on a telegram from Villa to General Carranza late last night. Interest here also centered on the reported movement of reinforcements for the federal troops of General Velasco at Torreon.

REINFORCEMENTS ARRIVE.
WASHINGTON, April 2.—Federal reinforcements from Saltillo have reached Torreon, according to a telegram to the Mexican embassy here.

El Paso. The message adds that there seemed to be little danger of the city being taken by Villa. The number of federal troops was not given.

ARE REBELS VICTORS?
MEXICO CITY, April 2.—That Torreon has been in the possession of the rebels since Sunday and that Villa is directing a considerable force across the country toward Monterrey has been a rumor since Sunday. It has no support from any tangible evidence.

The government suit professes not to have heard from General Velasco, commander at Torreon, but reiterates its confidence in his ultimate success.

TELLS OF OUTRAGES.
MADRID, April 2.—In his speech from the throne at the opening of the Spanish parliament today, King Alfonso alluded to the outrages of which Spaniards and citizens of other countries had been victims in Mexico. The Spanish government, His Majesty said, had sought and was continuing to seek for a method by which Spaniards and their property in Mexico could be protected. The presence of Spanish warships at Vera Cruz had, he continued, demonstrated the solidarity of the Spanish government for the lives and interests of Spanish subjects. He concluded that all possible help, moral and otherwise, would be afforded by Spain for the safe-guarding of the interests of her subjects and their property.

King of Sweden to Consult Specialist

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, April 2.—The condition of health of King Gustave continues to cause general anxiety. A bulletin issued today by the court physicians says:

Although the health of the King has improved during the last week and although there is no ground for uneasiness, the royal physicians have recommended his majesty to consult Professor Wilhelm Fleiner, the specialist for internal diseases, of Heidelberg, Germany, as there are indications of the return of the stomach trouble from which he has been suffering. Professor Fleiner will arrive in Stockholm on Saturday. The King has been sitting for some time. He underwent an operation for appendicitis in 1910 and in October last again fell ill.

Denies Petition to Restrain U. P. Plan

NEW YORK, April 2.—Supreme Court Justice Greenbaum denied today the petition of the Equitable Life Assurance Society for an injunction to restrain the Union Pacific Railroad Company from distributing as a special dividend to holders of common stock $50,000,000 in cash and stock of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad.

The Equitable sued to restrain the railroad on the ground the holders of preferred stock in the Union Pacific were entitled to share in the dividend or else have the $50,000,000 regarded as an asset and held by the road. It is understood that the Equitable will appeal from today's decision.

CHARGED WITH BATTERY.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 2.—Renfield H. Bowman who lives at 206 Ninth street, Oakland, was arrested at the city hall today and charged with battery on the face. Tony L. ## Daniels' Nomination Opposed by Senators

WASHINGTON, April 2.—President Wilson's nomination of Winthrop Daniels of New Jersey to be an Interstate Commerce Commissioner, tied up the Senate in a prolonged executive session today that threatened to delay the railroad rate speeches of Senators Cummins and La Follette. Both those Senators are opposing Mr. Daniels, whose nomination has been pending nearly three months.

There is no personal fight on him, but he is charged with holding unsound economic views as to railway valuation. The objections are understood to be based on Mr. Daniels' record as a member of the New Jersey public service commission.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve for All Hurts.

Prepare for Canal Conditions.

Following the assassination of President Lincoln, when the streets of New York City were seething with excited citizens and tumult reigned, James A. Garfield, afterward President of the United States, calmed the excited populace in a speech delivered on what was then upper Broadway, commencing with: "Fellow citizens, God reigns and the government at Washington still lives."

While the defeat of the free tolls clause for coastwise vessels in the Panama canal act by the House, and its almost certain defeat in the Senate, means retarding the growth and development of trade on the Pacific coast and the gulf states, calls for no such heroic utterance, there is something to be done in the light of that which has happened. The slogan should be: "Get busy and adapt yourselves to conditions!" The country is not going to the demerit bow-wow; it has endured worse shocks than this and will doubtless be called upon to endure others, especially if the Democrats remain in power.

empire has found a resting place in the west, and in the light of the happenings in the national legislature, we should meet the future, not as we hoped it would be, but as it will be.

While tolls will hamper inter-state trade through the canal to a degree, those engaged in commerce should plan to take advantage of conditions as they present themselves. The trend of inter-state commerce decisions has been to hold transcontinental railroad traffic, and by taking advantage of all opportunities the development of the Pacific coast can still be accelerated despite this error on the part of the President and his allies; an error which means the downfall of his party and the re-ascendancy of the Republican party and a possible change in conditions, for no law passed by Congress is eternal; the power to enact also carries with it the authority to repeal.

Dr. Hegerman's Report.

There has been considerable talk about Dr. Hegerman's report on beautifying Oakland and also on improving and making attractive to the eye the long line of waterfront pictured in Colonel Rees' plans which will never exist and which has practically now been abandoned. Certain enthusiastic citizens have appealed to the Board of Supervisors for funds to have the report published. While asking for funds some of these same gentlemen have secured bids to have the printing done in San Francisco with one hundred first-class shops in Oakland ready to do the work. Surely these boosters are consistent people. Then again the question is asked: Is the Hegerman report worth while?

Oakland: Its Identity Must Be Saved.

Representatives from Oakland, San Francisco and Los Angeles, meeting in the latter city, have launched a movement for city and county consolidation, and the city attorneys of the three municipalities have been appointed, and are now engaged in drafting the necessary constitutional amendment for submission to the people of the state by initiative petition.

There is no objection to consolidation where both elements favor the plan, nor is there objection to cities expanding in a legitimate manner and adding to their greatness, but Oakland will object to any such expansion when it involves the eradication of county lines so that neighbors can grab territory across the bay.

This city has too great a future to permit of its approval of a plan to absorb it for the simple purpose of increasing population. It is engaged in great constructive works which mean much to itself and the state. It will not consent to sacrifice the promise of coming days for the benefit of another city, which, having secured a numerical increase, might be tempted to stop the march of improvement in order to enhance its own importance, and will oppose with all its power any plan, scheme or suggestion calculated to sink its identity in that of another.

Let there be city and county consolidation wherever the result will justify it, but on no account cross a county line for the purpose of absorbing another community for mere increase in population.

Oh, Joy, Apples Are Assured!

As trade follows the flag, so also does the juicy, luscious apple of California the rain. Hence we feel to lift up our voice with that of Colonel Jeems Piratsky of the Watsonville Pajaronian, who announces with great juice and unction, eclat and enthusiasm, that recent precipitation means a tremendous crop of Bellflowers and Newtown Pippins.

Incidentally, the strawberry crop is also benefited, for all of which glory be!

Watsonville is the home of the foundation of the shortcake and the apple dumpling, the pie and the turn-over. Without Watsonville life in the Golden State would be devoted to orange marmalade, prunes and quince jelly. True, other localities grow apples and strawberries, but not in quantum suff., as the doctor says when he tells the druggist in Latin to add plenty of aqua pura. For Watsonville raises more apples than Oregon and Washington combined and more strawberries than anybody. No one has ever checked the strawberries accurately, although it is said 250,000 chests annually is an under estimate.

But far be it from us to cite statistics. Figures rob poetry of its charm and novelettes of their loveliness. More especially would this be true when talking of the fruits of Hebrides and the luscious product, yecept the strawberry. Divinity invented for the enjoyment of the children. Now it is intended to descend on the many good things that can be concocted of either or both.

Sufficient to say that if the rain has moistened the soil of the Pajaro valley sufficient to warrant a declaration that the crops will be abundant, all California, especially its cities, should rejoice with a joy second to none, for while the state at large provides the necessities and comforts of good eating, Watsonville furnishes the dessert, and dainty good stuff it is, and how happy we are to

San Joaquin may boast of its oranges, Petaluma of its eggs, Mendocino of its butter, the San Joaquin of its 'taters, and the hill country of its wheat, but when all is said and done, Watsonville is the place to go for the good stuff.

Dull Times Now in the Village Markets

Let Nature, Not Eugenics, Govern.

Following a perusal of some of the arguments—not all, for life has more profitable avocations—of the modern theory of mating known as eugenics, one confesses to an attack of that tired feeling, coupled in some instances with repugnance.

We may be mistaken in the premises, for to err is human, but the crux of the theory seems to be that only the best physical specimens should wed, and that, too, with an eye single to procuring a new generation in which beef, not brains, shall predominate. The chirrupers urge that Joe, being a six-foot person, clean limbed, sound in wind, with good gait and action, endowed with powers of endurance, a man with the bark on, so to speak, should marry Mary Jane, who is large, strong, well put together, husky and able to stand all kinds of hardships, to the end that sons and daughters shall be born, the boys like their father, the girls like their mother, each equally competent to run, jump, wrestle, play football, saw wood, pitch hay, run a threshing machine or top sugar beets.

Mentality appears to cut little figure, and if a man with a brain like Edison should happen to be a victim of the eugenics, or have a game leg, he is barred because some fellow with a torso and underpinning similar to Jim Jeffries is lingering in the outskirts waiting for a wife. Should the girl in the case be a near approach to Madame Curie, the discoverer of radium—a little woman, by the way—in mentality, but lack the makeup of a Venus according to Milo's projection, she, too, would be relegated to a rear seat, while a girl with a physique like a Norwegian hausfrau carried off the prospective husband.

Perhaps this view may be exaggerated, but, as stated, all the authorities have not been consulted. Perhaps there are advocates of eugenics who believe in mating mind with mind; who hold that mentality is transmitted the same as physical traits.

While it is admitted that some men and some women ought never to marry and perpetuate their imperfect kind, up to date Mother Nature has managed affairs very nicely. Did you ever notice that the tall woman usually selects a short man for her husband and that the big fellow falls in love with a little woman? It is the rule, not the exception, and thus does humanity hold its own with respect to preserving the average in size.

Have you noticed, also, that the highly endowed man usually gets a plain, ordinary, common-sense girl for a wife, and the highly endowed woman a mere man who doesn't know a darned thing except to make a good living, love his children and their mother and do the best he can? That is another rule, and through it Nature has preserved the mental balance.

Nature is all right. Through her selections she has kept the age limit at a point noted at history's dawn—the story of Methuselah to the contrary notwithstanding, for in his time the method of computing time was different from that of the present—and people live as long now as they did when Babylon was the Oakland of the world and Asia Minor its California. The little man and woman, the big man and woman have all played their parts in the Great Drama and played them well, because they were the result of the economy of the Higher Intelligence.

Perhaps certain phases of the eugenic theory may be right, but its advocates have in a measure discredited it by making it a fad with the tango, bunny hug and other freakish things attracting attention.

A Salt Lake City paper predicts that at the ensuing elections the eleven congressional districts in this State will all be carried by the Democrats. Utah has long been celebrated for its prophets, but in this instance they do not appear to be effective at long range.

Twenty Years Ago Today

The new Unitarian church in Alameda was dedicated last Monday, April 2, 1914, by Rev. L. W. Sprague and the pastor, Mr. G. R. Dodson, taking part in the services.

This afternoon the California brigade of the Industrial Army bound for Washington, on a long drive, arrived in this city via Creek route, after having paraded in San Francisco and supplied themselves with rations. They were met at the foot of Broadway by Chief Schaffer and Officers Hodgkins and Keefe, and about fifty unemployed men. Headed by a drum corps and under the command of General F. O. Houbart, they seemed to be composed, in the main, of honest men in hard circumstances. Houbart called on Mayor Pardee, asking for shelter and food and was promised both, the mayor stating that he thought the Tabernacle could be obtained to house them for the night. Tomorrow the army will march to Sacramento, where it hopes to obtain employment.

Mary A. Townsend has brought suit in the Superior court against John M. Creed and the Trustees of Berkeley for $2000 damages. This is the outcome of the forcible work done on the property she claims on Shattuck avenue.

The shelter which the Ladies Co-operative Aid Society has labored for so long has at last been established and is now in working order. Mrs. Drake is superintendent of the project. The purpose of the institution is to "keep those who are willing and anxious to help themselves."

GROWTH OF PATRIOTIC SPIRIT

People who have noticed the growth of interest in Lincoln day observances and the renewal of interest in observing the birthday of Washington, and the marked improvement in the ceremonies connected with Washington's birthday over the customs which prevailed many years ago, are greatly rejoiced.

The older citizens can remember that February 22 was looked upon as a day for amusement; sleigh rides, races, wrestling matches and dances. In view of Washington's remarkable life, his devotion, uprightness of character, his sacrifices for the country, his inestimable service in the revolutionary struggle and his wise statesmanship in shaping affairs after the battles had been fought, it is difficult to understand why the day was so regarded and so occupied by people who were under such great obligations to the "Father of his country," the father of their country; but so it was regarded for three-quarters of a century after Washington's death.

Without further lamenting over failure to take advantage of the day, let us be glad that a change has come, a change which means that the life, examples and services of the first president and the great general whose heroic leadership made possible the republic, are so portrayed in speech, song and action as to bring the people more keenly to appreciate what Washington did for them and their country.

A few years ago few raised the national flag, and for reasons given, seems unaccountable, as well as inexcusable. It is not so now. There is not a state in the Union, and not a city in a state where the flag is not displayed upon the birthdays of both Washington and Lincoln. In many of the states it has become the general habit to wear a small flag in a button-hole on those days, or a red, white and blue knot. So general has become the habit of displaying the stars and stripes over public, mercantile, manufacturing and private buildings; in schools, churches, homes, in button-holes, that at least a majority of those old enough of our nation's population to see it be inspired by it, receive an uplift from it.

In all of the thousands of celebrations upon those days in schools, churches, Sunday schools, by patriotic societies, in processions, at parties, the American flag cuts a conspicuous and educating figure. It is an inspiration to the speakers, readers, singers and audiences. At one celebration in a church not far from Chicago, where there was an audience of 1000, one large flag covered the front of the organ, two other large ones occupied the back of the pulpit, another was draped about the pulpit and along the sides of the church there were ten other flags of good size. On that Sunday each one of the 350 Sunday school children wore a little flag. This was a type of assurance that city and country are sure that the same is true of churches in other cities. In some churches, and I hope in many, the flag is to be seen, and I hope that some day an American flag to be displayed at each service, will be deemed one of the essentials. Why not?

noise, dissipation and out of date orations has disappeared, and in its place has come a quiet, earnest, safe same and truly patriotic observance of the day. That change has meant much in the way of valuable lessons impressed, for now all classes are interested, unusual pains being taken to bring the children under patriotic teaching and influence. It has also meant a remarkable life-saver. May the old way never return and may the new way make still more rapid advance. Memorial day from the start has been a day for educating in patriotism. Doubtless it will remain so. It should—J. A. Watrous, Lieutenant Colonel U. S. Army, Retired.

SENSITIVE PERSONS

Those who are not sensitive by nature never become sensitive through experience. And sensitivity is such a doubtful blessing that few born without it would take any great pains to acquire the quality. The first common conception of a sensitive person is of one whose feelings are easily hurt. In wounded feelings, unquestionably, sensitivity gives its earliest manifestations; sensitive children are at times the unhappy.

But at other times they are the happiest. Although they have griefs and pains that their more "sturdy" playmates never know, they also enjoy in a higher degree the pleasant emotions of life; they have a keener appreciation of affection, art of kindness, their spirits respond more quickly and eagerly to the stimulating influences of friendship and books and nature.

What they have especially to do as they grow older, if they are to make their sensitiveness an advantage to them, rather than a handicap, is to learn self-control. When their feelings are hurt, they must bear the wound stoically. They must learn not to let their ego obscure the cosmos. They must harden themselves against the rough knocks of life without becoming less accessible to its soft appeals.

Indeed, the paradox of sensitivity is that the more successful a person is in conquering the vulnerability of his own feelings, the more tender he grows of the feelings of others. When his sensitivity becomes too objective, it begins to flourish as an aid and enrichment to life. Then what is sweet and sound in nature and in art makes a deeper impression, gives a great pleasure.

The boy who thinks he is morbidly sensitive must not despair; the character is that he will become a man of quiet human interest and keen and sympathetic understanding.—Youth's Companion.

DID BROWN'S DOG CHASE HIS RIVAL?

Momentous Question Has the Jury, Court, Public and Canine in Suspense.

ALBANY, April 3.—The law wrangled and writhed under the tremendous stress put upon it in Judge Taft's recent decision week by the case of the People vs. John Brown. A jury, which sat for three hours in deliberation over the charge that Brown permitted his dog to run at large, disagreed at midnight and was dismissed. The case will be tried to-morrow.

The defendant, Brown, who declared the dog chased him, Brown and Glavinovich are political rivals, the former being a leader in the recall movement against Mayor Frank J. Roberts, as Trustee George Thompson. When Glavinovich arrested Brown, the latter claimed this was a bid of political "spite work."

This Glavinovich "spite work" number witnesses were heard. Mrs. Paul, wife of the presiding judge, testified that the dog once pursued her across an empty lot.

YOUR HAIR DARK

It's Grandmother's Recipe to Bring Back Color, Thickness and Lustre; Everybody Is Using It Again.

Gray hair, however handsome, denotes advancing age. We all know the advantages of a youthful appearance. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray and looks dry, wispy and scraggly, just a few applications of Sage Tea and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundred-fold.

Don't stay gray! Look young! Either prepare the tonic at home or get from any drug store a 50 cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Tonic." The tonic is a ready-to-use preparation, because it darkens the hair beautifully and removes dandruff, stops scalp itching and falling hair, besides no one can possibly tell, as it darkens so naturally and evenly. You moisten a sponge or soft brush with it, drawing this through the hair.

CLUBWOMEN TALK ON MANY TOPICS

Northern District of the State Federation in Session at Woodland.

WOODLAND, April 2.—The discussions, papers and addresses on the program yesterday at the twelfth annual convention of the northern district of the California Federation of Women's Clubs, in session in this city, covered varied subjects of civil service reform, politics, history, landmarks, industrial and social conditions, civics, waterways, forestry, home industry, education, art, literature and international peace.

Mrs. Bradford Woodbridge of Sacramento handled the subject of women in politics, advocating that every woman should do her share. Mrs. W. Quast of Rocklin talked of women's activity in civic improvements. Mrs. C. E. Edger of the women in their home relations. Mrs. W. S. Kendall of San Francisco urged the women to take an interest in the state highways. Mrs. A. M. Seymour of Sacramento discussed the "Big Brother" movement, which provides for the boys after they have been turned out of the reformatories. Other noted women delivered addresses on the general subjects, while Theodore A. Bell, of Samuel Shortridge addressed the assembly during the day.

Mrs. B. F. Welton of Yuba City and Mrs. George W. McCord of Sacramento were elected to the general federation of women's clubs, to be held in Chico in June.

LINK CITY TO THE NIGHTS HONOR POET, PLEADS JAMES

Editor TRIBUNE:

For thirty years or more I have spent part of each year wandering up and down California, studying and bathing in its beautiful, glowing and enchantments, and then much of the rest of the year I have devoted to telling people in every state in the Union of what we possess. My business is publicity—attracting attention to California.

In my literary work and lectures I am in close contact with millions of America's citizens. As a result of this contact and consequent interchange of thought I know more than most men the opinions of the outside world on California.

I also know what has attracted those who have come here, and among the most potent, most efficient, most searching and persistent of the varied advertising factors that California possesses, none has been greater than the life, personality and work of Joaquin Miller, the Poet of the Sierras.

KNOWING JOAQUIN MILLER I know that the fact that Joaquin Miller too well, that he wrote only a few poems, that he is not in the class with our great poets. Through they show their lack of power to put themselves outside their own little world. I personally have talked with Lord Houghton, Disraeli, Gladstone, George Eliot, Tennyson, Browning, John Keats and a poet of England's greatest literary, statesmen and philosophers.

They were unanimous in declaring Joaquin Miller by far the greatest imaginative poet America has ever produced. Not even the greatest of English poets, Tennyson declared "Columbus" the greatest poem expressive of a nation's destiny ever written in any age in any tongue. Yet we, because we think we know him too well, his greatness as a poet dwarfed by our too close proximity to the man, question the dictum of these world-famous experts and authorities and declare him a small poet. God have mercy on our measly minds and contemptible souls.

GREATEST OF AMERICANS.

If I had the time there is nothing I would do better than to go to Oakland and before any audience your city could gather, with judges selected from the universities or University men of Berkeley and Stanford prove the proposition I enunciated by the poet of England, viz., that as an imaginative and lyric poet Joaquin Miller is the greatest poet America has yet produced.

Hence Oakland can well afford to spend a few thousand dollars to honor the memory of Joaquin Miller. He will give far more power to Oakland than Oakland can ever benefit him. I have no apologies to offer for suggesting the truth, viz., that Joaquin Miller is known well and favorably to thousands who have never heard, or if they have heard, who care absolutely nothing for Oakland.

CHANCE TO BE SEIZED.

Will Oakland then be so shortsighted as to fail to seize the opportunity it now possesses to link its name forever with that of Joaquin Miller by purchasing from his widow and daughter (and for their sole financial benefit) the place that he has made world famous, "The Heights"? What matter that the monies are not much, the cottages no value, the price too high? The place is hallowed, sanctified by the memory of a great poet's life. The trees were planted and cared for by his own hand, the paths worn in his own means of transportation. "The Heights" seems to be too far away, are the objectors who say these fool things awake or asleep? Do they know anything of history, of development, of electric improvements? Far away! In ten years it will be within fifteen or twenty minutes of the Oakland City Hall and will bring more rich, cultured and advertising dollars to Oakland than any other thing Oakland now possesses.

BEWARE SACKCLOTH.

I am not a prophet, nor yet a son of a prophet, but I will risk my soul's salvation on the assertion that if Oakland lets this opportunity go by in twenty years she will either be seated in sackcloth and ashes because she failed to secure "The Heights" or she will be taxing herself ten times the amount she is now asked to gain possession of it.

Personally I care no more for the building up of Oakland than I do for the building up of any other California city, but I know men and I know history and for that reason I urge all loyal citizens of Oakland to besiege their councilmen and civic officials until they pledge themselves to do honor to themselves and their city by linking it to "The Heights"—the home of Joaquin Miller, America's foremost poet.

GEORGE WHEATON JAMES, Editor Out West Magazine, Pasadena, Cal.

PEDAGOGUES LIVE LONG HEREABOUTS

Fifty-eight Out of Sixty-seven Pensioners Are Bay Residents.

The pensioning the other day of the first list of California teachers, under the new state law, revealed the fact that out of the sixty-seven retiring teachers, fifty-eight live around the San Francisco bay or in adjacent territory. They are all enjoying the best of health, despite their advanced years, and the nervous character of the work in which they have devoted their lives.

In discussing the subject State Superintendent of Schools Hyatt said yesterday: "By far the large majority of the pensioned teachers dwell about the bay, in San Francisco, Oakland and neighboring territory. It is because of the climate? Do they find the bay atmosphere peculiarly conducive to pedagogical longevity or does it just happen so? The majority are between 65 and 70 years of age. Alexander H. McDonald of San Francisco is 65, the oldest. He was Governor Johnson's teacher.

"It is to be hoped that the good man liked the governor once or twice in those days of opportunity, for he will never get another chance.

Mrs. Miranda Hasket of Ukiah who has earned her retirement salary beyond any doubt, has two daughters and three granddaughters, all teachers. She hopes to live to see her great grandchildren enlist as teachers."

VAST CAPITAL FOR RESERVE SYSTEM

Federal Banking to Start With Authorized Capital of About $100,000,000.

WASHINGTON, April 2.—The new federal reserve banking system will start business with a total authorized capital of about $100,000,000 for all reserve banks. This fact became apparent last night when figures were made public from all national banks responding to the last call of the comptroller of the currency made March 4th.

The total capital and surplus of the 7434 national banks reporting, was given at about $1,783,000,000. Under the reserve act each national bank must subscribe six percent of its capital and surplus to the capital of the reserve bank in its district, and six percent to the total would be about $107,000,000. There were only 7463 national banks who intended to enter the legal time their intention to enter the system, so that the total would be somewhat reduced, but the entrance into the system of state banks and trust companies will tend to offset this, and it is possible that with these institutions' figures in the capital of all reserve banks will be near $110,000,000.

THREE-SIXTHS MANDATORY.

The actual working capital of all the banks may rank only half this amount, for the law provides mandatory subscriptions of three-sixths of the total six per cent. The reserve board, the machine which will direct the system, however, is authorized to demand the payment of the other three-sixths.

The statement today shows national banks in excellent condition to meet the demands of the new law. Some observers were surprised by the fact that loans and discounts have increased instead of being curtailed. Loans and discounts on March 4, 1914, amounted to $5,357,535,858, a gain over January 12, 1914, the time of the last call of $182,140,938.

PAYMENTS MUST BEGIN.

Subscribing banks must begin payment for their reserve bank stock thirty days after the announcement of the law. Some banks have begun making payments in some quarters that today's statement might show a decrease in loans and discounts because of this impending announcement. The law and discount increase taken together show that the individual deposits increased in the "same period by more than $2,000,000 was said to be the best indication that the demands of the new system.

RESOURCES AND LIABILITIES.

According to the statement the resources and liabilities of the National Banks is $1,783,000,000. Their capital stock is $1,054,427,267. Their individual deposits $1,054,427,267. Their reserves were put at $1,447,592,278, an average of 30.2 per cent and $475,252,120 above the amount required by law. The total in banks decreased since January, 1914, April, 1912, about $80,000,000.

During March the new banks were authorized to begin business and upon the currency act was signed there has been 104 applications for conversion into national banks or for entrance into the new system as state institutions.

CLIMBS, JUMPS, SCALES FOR $1.50; IS "NABBED"

SAN FRANCISCO, April 2.—After successfully rambling the Monte Cristo saloon, 1809 Powell street, at 4 o'clock this morning, Frank Wilson, a bookkeeper, was surprised by the police and after desperately climbing a rope hand over hand, jumping from a dizzy height and scrambling down a ladder, walked into the arms of waiting patrolmen.

E. P. Forester of 634 Filbert street, while passing the saloon, heard suspicious noises. He found Patrolmen Logan and Morgan and Special Officer Burk. To them he confided his belief that a burglar was at work. They returned to the scene and Morgan entered an adjoining barber shop and made his way to the rear. The burglar heard him coming and began to climb the rope with which he had let himself down from a skylight above. He succeeded in reaching the roof and as he jumped to another building and dropped down he was caught by the police and Burk. He had taken $1.50 in cash from the till, some telephone books and a quantity of cigars and cigarettes. He was charged with burglary.

Society

MISS LORENA ROAG, TALENTED OAKLAND GIRL, WHO WILL TAKE PART IN SOCIETY'S RITNESS AT SANTA ROSA APRIL 13.

THE season this year at Burlingame will be especially brilliant, with a glittering galaxy of social stars and a number of distinguished visitors to play brief engagements, theatrically speaking.

Burlingame has been called the nearest thing to Newport in the west. It is really more English than Long Island in many ways. But it is where the smartest and most sophisticated society in California is interested in the Burlingame contingent as New York is in the "carnegie set" of Newport.

This summer the clans will all be gathered. Very few have gone abroad and most of the big places will be open. One of the most attractive is the Andrew Stone's. It's like an English picture. The house is set on a level lawn with a background of trees and a high hedge over which the gabled house is glimpsed from the highway.

New place will be filled with young people when the Will Crocker comes home from Paris; and that trio of spirited young matrons, Mrs. Robin Hayne, Mrs. Felton Elkins and Mrs. De Guigne, will do a lot to keep things going.

For special attractions there are Mrs. Carolyn, Mrs. Peter Martin and Mrs. Malcolm Whitman coming from New York. It couldn't be dull where they are. Mrs. Carolyn and Mrs. Martin are striking personalities anywhere from Paris to San Mateo, and Jennie Crocker Whitman has her own spirit and temperament, though they say she's carefully domesticated these days and a devoted mother to her small son.

Several English titles are promised, including Lord Alastair Innes Kerr, and altogether Burlingame will be gay and more interesting than in many months.

INVITATIONS FOR DANCE.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Tripler Hutchinson are sending out invitations for a dance they will give at the Claremont Country Club on Thursday evening, April 16. It will be a "coco" ball, and the women will wear quite fancy costumes, while the men will don linen dusters. About 100 of the smart set will be present.

The affair had been planned for a date in January, but owing to the death of a distant relative Mrs. Hutchinson recalled her invitations, and it was postponed until after Lent. Several dinners will be given preceding the ball.

BERKELEY BELLE TO WED.

One of the much talked engagement girls is Miss Constance Davis whose wedding to Arthur Ford will take place on April 14 at the home of her parents Mr. and Mrs. Robert Davis in Berkeley. It will be a very pretty affair, the ceremony to be performed at three o'clock in the afternoon, and to be followed by a reception. Mr. Ford is one of the popular bachelors of San Francisco society and the young people have been entertained at a number of affairs across the bay.

TO ARRIVE FROM MEXICO.

Mrs. Hans, whose home has been in the City of Mexico for several years, has been for the past few months in Yucatan.

Club Women's Work Directly Associated With Home; While Hubby's Away They Play

(By BETTY MARTIN.)

THE argument has frequently been advanced that clubwomen neglect their homes, their children and their husbands. Such statements usually emanate from disinterested parties, rather than those who are concerned.

Considered as a whole, clubwomen have earned the right to dispose of their time as they please. Their husbands are young in spirit, if not in years, and are usually financially successful.

labor-saving device known to science. If they do not employ competent help, they are able to plan and execute the work of running a house systematically.

Usually the clubwoman is a mother, and a mother of whom her children may well be proud. Her children, as a rule, are grown, married and in homes of their own.

A glance at the programs of any of the leading women's clubs will reveal the fact that nearly all club work is done during the day, and is done during the day. The morning hours. Even when scheduled to be finished early so that if there are school children, the mothers may be on time.

So far as husbands are concerned, few are on the retired list. American men are occupied during daylight hours in gathering in a "coco" ball, and have little time for reading, practically no time at all for physical recreation, and the opera, which is a most popular and golden means to go to the theater unless to be amused.

REST AND COOGLING.

At home they want, most of all, rest and cooing. They are proud of their women folk, particularly when the women have brains enough to assimilate knowledge, whether through club channels or any other known method.

For every man on record as directly traceable to women's clubs, there is a usually the man's club, not the woman's.

The Rodolphs will sail for home next Thursday.

One of the smart weddings of the month will be that of Miss Ethel Olney and Robert Easton, on April 18. It will be a very small home affair with only relatives and a few intimate friends present. The ceremony will be performed by Rev. Edward Lamb Parsons of Berkeley, and there will be no attendants. After a honeymoon at Coronado at picturesque Santa Maria near San Diego.

Our Mothers And Children

By LILLIAN RUSSELL

IN the majority of instances, the mother is beautiful, so are the children. For if she is a woman of health and physical as well as mental vigor, a guarantee is given for sound and healthy children, as far as she is concerned. And if in addition to these gifts and accomplishments the mother in all of her domestic relations is a model woman, clearly, orderly, punctual, persevering, energetic, with dignity and amiability of character becoming her sex, the mother may expect that every son of such a mother will be a man of mark in his day and every daughter fit to be a queen.

Nor does this potent maternal influence cease with the mother, but passes down to the daughter, and upon the daughters of a people hang the destinies of a nation. And shall they in infancy and early youth be transferred from the tender care of a loving mother to the purchased care of nurses and governesses and to the tutelage of fashionable boarding schools? Is not home the place in which to form the principles of those who are to be the wives and mothers and matrons of our great republic?

Remember: Every impression, every mental or moral, made upon our daughters is transferable to the next generation, and to several consecutive ones, and may spread far through millions yet unborn. And in this sense and on this account the responsibility of parents, and especially of mothers, is truly great and fearful.

FIVE HOTELS BURN; GUESTS LEAP FOR LIFE

WOMAN IS FATALY HURT

Tourists in Florida Resorts Narrowly Escape Death

Two Waterfront Blocks Burn at St. Augustine

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla., April 2.—Five hotels, the county court house and a number of residences, so far as known no lives were lost, though many guests at the Florida house, the Munson house, Clayton's, Atlantic and Central hotels which were destroyed, escaped scantly clad. Two persons were injured. An unidentified woman was probably fatally hurt when she leaped from the third story of a residence. Libby, a guest at the Florida, suffered a broken leg in leaping from the second floor. The guests had no time to save their personal belongings. Nearly two blocks near the waterfront were destroyed. The fire originated about 6 o'clock in the kitchen of the Florida, a large wooden structure, and spread rapidly. Firemen first turned their attention to rescuing guests at the Florida, many of whom were carried down ladders.

LOSS $750,000. The burned section was bounded by Charlotte, Treasury, Hypocrite and St. George streets. The loss is estimated at $750,000. The Vedder house, a famous landmark containing valuable curios collected by the St. Augustine Historical Society, was among the buildings destroyed. A company of militia today guarded the burned section to prevent looting. Assistant General Foster established an information bureau in the Plaza, and every effort was made, with the help of the militia, to find friends and relatives of the victims. Among the first buildings destroyed was the St. Johns County Court House, supposed to have been a fireproof structure. It is not believed that records in the fireproof vaults of the county clerk will be damaged. The flames were under control shortly after dark, and little smoke revealed the burned area which had come from a show place of the oldest city in the United States.

SAVES BOATS. When the fire attacked the power boat building on the waterfront it was the presence of mind of Charles Hopkins, manager of the races, that saved $50,000 in speed craft. He cut the moorings of the valuable boats and they sailed unharmed to a safe harbor in the bay. The burning structure was destroyed when flames attacked the old Vedder building, where curios of the historical Spanish days which had long been viewed with interest by thousands of winter visitors, were entirely destroyed. The flames spread east and north, fanned by a stiff breeze and quickly destroyed a Genovar Opera House, a large frame building. It was only through heroic work of the firemen that the Magnolia Hotel was saved. This structure caught fire several times. Lodge men joined in the fight when flames attacked the new Fraternal building, and prevented its destruction.

POLICEMEN BURNED. PITTSBURG, April 2.—Two policemen were burned seriously and an entire family, consisting of the father, mother and three children, were reported missing after a fire here early today. The frame tenement houses were destroyed.

School Lassies to Have Beauty Organization and Contest
Horrid Boys Who Praise Redheaded Types Will Be Barred

Girls All Beautiful, Says Principal, Who Refuses to Be Judge

"The value of a smile and its effect."
"Proper shapes for beauty spots in hot weather."
"How I reduce my weight."
How would these sound as titles of lectures in a perfectly respectable and very conventional school? They are likely to be heard if the Girls Beauty Association, as planned by the fair students is really formed at the Oakland high school. The girls are now planning the organization—and furnishing their own spots and cutting their beauty spots for demonstrations. The science of being beautiful, say the girls planning the organization has nothing to do with being beautiful by science. They are not going to show how rouge should be applied—or just how a girl can be beautiful without rouge. They are going to suggest colored wigs, but will instead suggest new modes of hairdressing. They will hear lectures on the cultivation of beauty—"by natural means." "Still," says one of the founders, "it's natural for a girl to try to be beautiful by any means—so I guess our lectures will cover everything. We'll be beautiful if we have to accept, submit to, conquer, ensnare or borrow beauty."

TO HOLD BEAUTY CONTEST.
A beauty contest will be the final terms of the Girls Beauty Association. Girls won't be allowed to judge—the ones most interested shall decide on the success of the undertaking. The judges will be as follows: "Jimmy" Garthwaite, president of the student body, Norris Shindler, student body official, "Tommy" Graves, football captain, Carl Max and Russell McDonald, first proposed as judges, were disqualified, say the girls, because they said no girl was really beautiful who didn't have red hair. Principal Keyes has refused to judge. "All the girls in the high school are pretty," said Carl Max, and Russell McDonald, are pretty."

In the meantime plans are under way for the first meeting of the beauty association. The date is a secret—and boys will be barred. The youths of the high school are busy decorating to learn when, how and why—but in vain. Among the acknowledged school beauties who have taken a prominent part in the student activities and will aid in the formation of the new society are the following: Miss Allison Stone, Miss Anna Kessler, Miss Leona Young, Miss Beatrice Mark, Miss Ruth Vincent, Miss Irene Ray, Miss Gladys Gerrish and Miss Ruth Berlin.

RATE ADVANCE VITAL, REA CLAIMS

Railroad President Points Out Cause of Increased Expense.

WASHINGTON, April 2.—The Interstate Commerce Commission heard arguments today by representatives of eastern railways urging an increase in freight rates. It was planned to conclude the hearings today, if possible. Interest in the question was heightened today because of the announcement that the railroad president would speak in the debate today on his bill to make unlawful any attempt to force a rate increase.

Commissioner of the Pennsylvania system was the last witness to be heard today before the Interstate Commerce Commission on behalf of the eastern railways asking for an increase in freight rates. Oral testimony for the roads was concluded with his statement.

Chairman Harlan and Commissioners Clark and Nease were on the bench. Dr. E. W. Taft, the Australian ambassador, and his guest, Prince Mum of Denmark, were interested auditors.

J. S. Rogers, superintendent of the Pennsylvania system, testified that charges for operating expenses on the Pennsylvania system had increased from $24,875,000 in 1910 to $29,411,210 in 1913, an increase of 18.3 per cent. He said that the increase was due to a number of factors, including the cost of fuel, the cost of maintenance of way during 1913 were much greater than ever before and probably would remain at the present high level because of large increases in wages. He said that the cost of fuel had increased because of the increased demands of the traveling and shipping, the necessity for a higher standard of track structure and roadbed in consequence of heavy traffic and the policy of eliminating grade crossings, a tabulating various other factors and a steady straightening of lines and similar works. He indicated also the higher cost of rail ties and materials used in deepening roadbeds. He dwelt particularly on the cost of safety appliances demanded by law and public sentiment.

President Rea said that the Pennsylvania system, but all American railroads, were confronted with the necessity of retrenchment which might prove serious unless they were permitted to increase their net incomes. He said:

REA GIVES VIEWS
"Unless the gap between receipts and expenses is closed, and the system must begin to retrench, and retrenchment must begin on betterments and improvements not directly necessary to the movement of trains. We should be very reluctant to do this, as it would be to run counter to our tradition and the policy of the Pennsylvania system, but we are sure that it 'could not be' in the public interest to do so."

"Now we have as much public support as can possibly be given to a plea almost national in its scope and effect, and we are sure that the application of a fairly moderate freight rate increase is in accord with the best public interest."

While he did not assert that the advance was necessary to the maintenance of the Pennsylvania Railroad and its dividends in the immediate future.

Mr. Rea declared that "any general idea that the Pennsylvania system's position was so strong as not to need any additional revenue, is not correct."

He added that the Pennsylvania system's position was so strong as not to need any additional revenue, is not correct.

Discussing the necessity of retrenchment, Mr. Rea said:

COULD EXPEND MILLIONS
"We know that, judging from our past experience, many millions could be advantageously expended on the system in the next few years. We have confronting us a program of expenditures which we believe to be essential, some of them mainly for the benefit of the public, but all of them necessary to properly accommodate the present and future traffic."

"It is not, of course, an unnecessary to commit ourselves to any large fixed program of expenditures, except to say that without assurance of adequate earnings they cannot proceed and a reasonable portion of the cost of these future enlargements and improvements ought in our judgment to be provided from surplus earnings."

WHAT RAILROADS CLAIM.
Mr. Rea's contention, which he indicated applied generally to the Pennsylvania system and generally to all other roads, was that the railways were being unfairly treated by the public. He said that the railways were being unfairly treated by the public. He said that the railways were being unfairly treated by the public.

Son of Lewis Nixon Haled Into Court on Charge of Assault

NEW HAVEN, April 2.—Stanhope W. Nixon of New York city, a Yale scientific school student and son of Lewis Nixon, former Democratic national committee chairman, was haled into the City Court today with assault on Edward H. Everett, chief engineer of the Southern New England Telephone Company. His lawyers were not ready for the hearing and a continuance was granted until April 10, the bond of $1500 was posted.

His father, who came to the city in response to a telegraphic report from his son, accompanied the young man to the court house. The assault on Everett, which nearly killed him, took place last December. Nixon has told the police he followed a wine party at a hotel at which other students had been present and occurred while he was returning to their quarters.

The San Francisco Police had formerly occupied the premises, moving to new quarters last November. Before leaving they had given instructions to move the vat containing the heads and several other bits of skeleton but the city undertaker had forgotten to send for them.

The discovery by the workmen of more than a skeleton and rumor became current at once that a series of murders had occurred and a modern bluebeard had been at work.

MYSTERY IN CASE

School Girl Hysterical, Claims She Was Prisoner in a Garage.

NEW YORK, April 2.—Sixteen-year-old Jessie Wood returned to her home in Ridgefield Park, N. J., late last night as quietly as she left it Tuesday when she walked out hatless and disappeared. The school she attended was closed yesterday so that the pupils might search for her. The girl is a daughter of Percy L. Wood, head bookkeeper in a New York bank. She had been working over examinations that were to have been held in the school today. Mrs. Wood, who became hysterical, entered her home and went to her room. It appeared for a time that she did not know that she had been away.

She said she had been kidnapped by two men near her home. Her story was that she had been taken to New York in an automobile kept in a garage over right and that she escaped and made her way to her home in Ridgefield Park, a policeman giving her money for her fare.

The Wood family gave out a statement explaining the girl's absence. Disappointed because she had not been sent to a high school in New York as she had hoped, and fearing the examinations in the village school set for today, she decided to leave home, according to the statement. She borrowed a suitcase from a friend and entered the waiting room at a railroad station, remained there over night and in the morning decided to return when she read newspaper accounts of her disappearance.

FIND BOBBING HUMAN HEADS IN VAT

Also Nude Body of Child Grew-some Discovery Due to Un-derstand's Oversight.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 2.—Four human heads bobbing about in a vat and the nude body of a child served to send several workmen in a hasty retreat to the street following a gruesome discovery in the basement of the building at 443 Fillmore street this morning.

The message sent to police headquarters was to the effect that the human heads and the corpse were in a big black vat in the back of the house, but when Chief Deputy Coroner Kelly and Detectives Jackson and Gallagher reached the scene they found the relics in a barrel of preserving fluid.

The San Francisco Police had formerly occupied the premises, moving to new quarters last November. Before leaving they had given instructions to move the vat containing the heads and several other bits of skeleton but the city undertaker had forgotten to send for them.

HEN BERRY READY TO STRENGTHEN ANGELS WHERE WEAK

Oaks Visit "Movie Camp," "Rod" Murphy as a News Scribe.

(By L. B. GROSS.)
(Special to THE TRIBUNE.)
LOS ANGELES, April 2. — President Henry Berry of the Los Angeles club thinks he has found his secret as strong as any other in the league, and he does not see how the Angels can fail to bring the pennant to the southern California team since last year's success. Berry, and I do not see how some of the scribes can claim that we are weak, outside of lacking one man for the infield.

"I am now looking for another infielder but have not the slightest idea who it will be, but you can say for me that if at any time in the season the team shows signs of weakness, no expense will be spared to strengthen it."

Manager Frank Dillon admitted he thought well of his team, but did not go into a long analysis of his old Berry.

"Like a classy outfielder but he will have to see him in action against the Coast before I can say he will see more about him."

Several members of the team attended a dance last night just before the team left for the Coast. "That Street Car Race," written by Bert Loomis could not keep his feet from doing the Gaby slide. "Those from the Coast," however, is some dancer," said Bill Malarkey.

Zacher, Middleton, Killilay and Coy paid a visit to the Selig motion picture camp yesterday, and witnessed the movie actors enact a film drama. Killilay is sure that the leading lady was shot in the neck by a bold, bad train robber at least ten times before the man with the camera cried "Halt." Bert Coy says that when he is through playing ball he is going to break into the movies and play the part of a "Dunkus," whatever that means.

Although the weather is very mild down here, Trainer William Morris must have been affected by the heat today for he let himself be separated from a whole dollar while certain members of the team could be seen around the lobby of the hotel with lit cigars in their faces.

Second Baseman Bob Murphy was a newspaperman at one time, that is he wrote college sports for the Washington, D. C. papers. Murphy is full of weird ideas. The following stories coming from him:

In one of the American league games last summer, when the Senators played against the Yankees, the pitcher, Walter Johnson, was pitched on second, with Roy Morgan at the bat. Morgan gave the hit and run sign and Morgan proceeded with his end of the job by bunting the ball down the third base line. The opposing third sacker meditated a few seconds, and decided to let it roll, thinking it would go foul.

In the meantime, Morgan streaked around third base and started home. About that time the third baseman agreed with several thousand fans that the ball was fair and grabbed at the slow moving sphere. The catcher followed to Milan to slide back to third, and the latter proceeded to do so with great dispatch.

He hit the dirt with a desperate slide and incidentally hit the ball at the same time. The third sacker having missed the same. He was called out for being hit by a batted ball, while Morgan reached second base. This is about the only time in baseball history that a runner on second was out for being hit by a batted ball.

When Ping Bodie made his first trip to Washington with the White Sox he ran up against Walter Johnson pitching on a cloud. Bodie was so nervous that he made an order for the big heater. He was sweating his last ball by the Sox batters and had them all helpless except Harry Lord, who managed to get two singles. After striking out twice Ping rushed up to Lord and asked his formula for success. "Strike your bat and stand up close to the plate," advised Lord.

"Where?" shouted Ping. "When I bat," advised Lord, "stand up close to the plate, hold of the end of the bat and get as far away from the plate as I can. You can choke your bat, but I am too fond of living for that."

Boxy Middleton is one sore young man today, and his cause is for a change. It happened this way. Alexander, Geyer and Quinlan were resting on the bags when Boxy came to bat and something seemed to tell him that it was necessary to score at least Alexander and Geyer as the last-named had an engagement to catch the balance of the game, and he might get stiff hanging on to the second, so what did Middleton do but lean against the ball and sent it so far out to center field, while every one took it for granted that it would be a home run. But here is where Maggart showed his class and went after the pill at a mile-a-minute clip, and just as the ball was about to reach the ground, Maggart jumped and made a catch that brought the fans to their feet.

Bernie McCar, field captain and infielder for the Oakland club during the seasons of 1908 and 1909, is among the fans at the game today. He played with the Oakland club in 1903 as a member of the pitching staff, but left the club that year and did not return until the fall of 1908.

McCar, who is now manager of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce, and George L. Lawson of the George Austin Real Estate firm, were present at the game yesterday, rooting for the Oaks all the time.

It was just fourteen years ago, on the 21st day of March, 1900, that the Los Angeles club played the first professional baseball game in Los Angeles. The Oakland team winning by the close of the game.

The battery for Oakland was Doc McKinnon and Pete Lohman, who was also the manager, while Oscar Jones and Spies were the battery for the Los Angeles team. Other ball players on the Oakland team at that time were Jule Streim, J. J. Abe Arratene, Ed. Moore, Bob Buck, Fredrick, Jack Donovan, Jim McDermott and the Patten State Hospital for the insane.

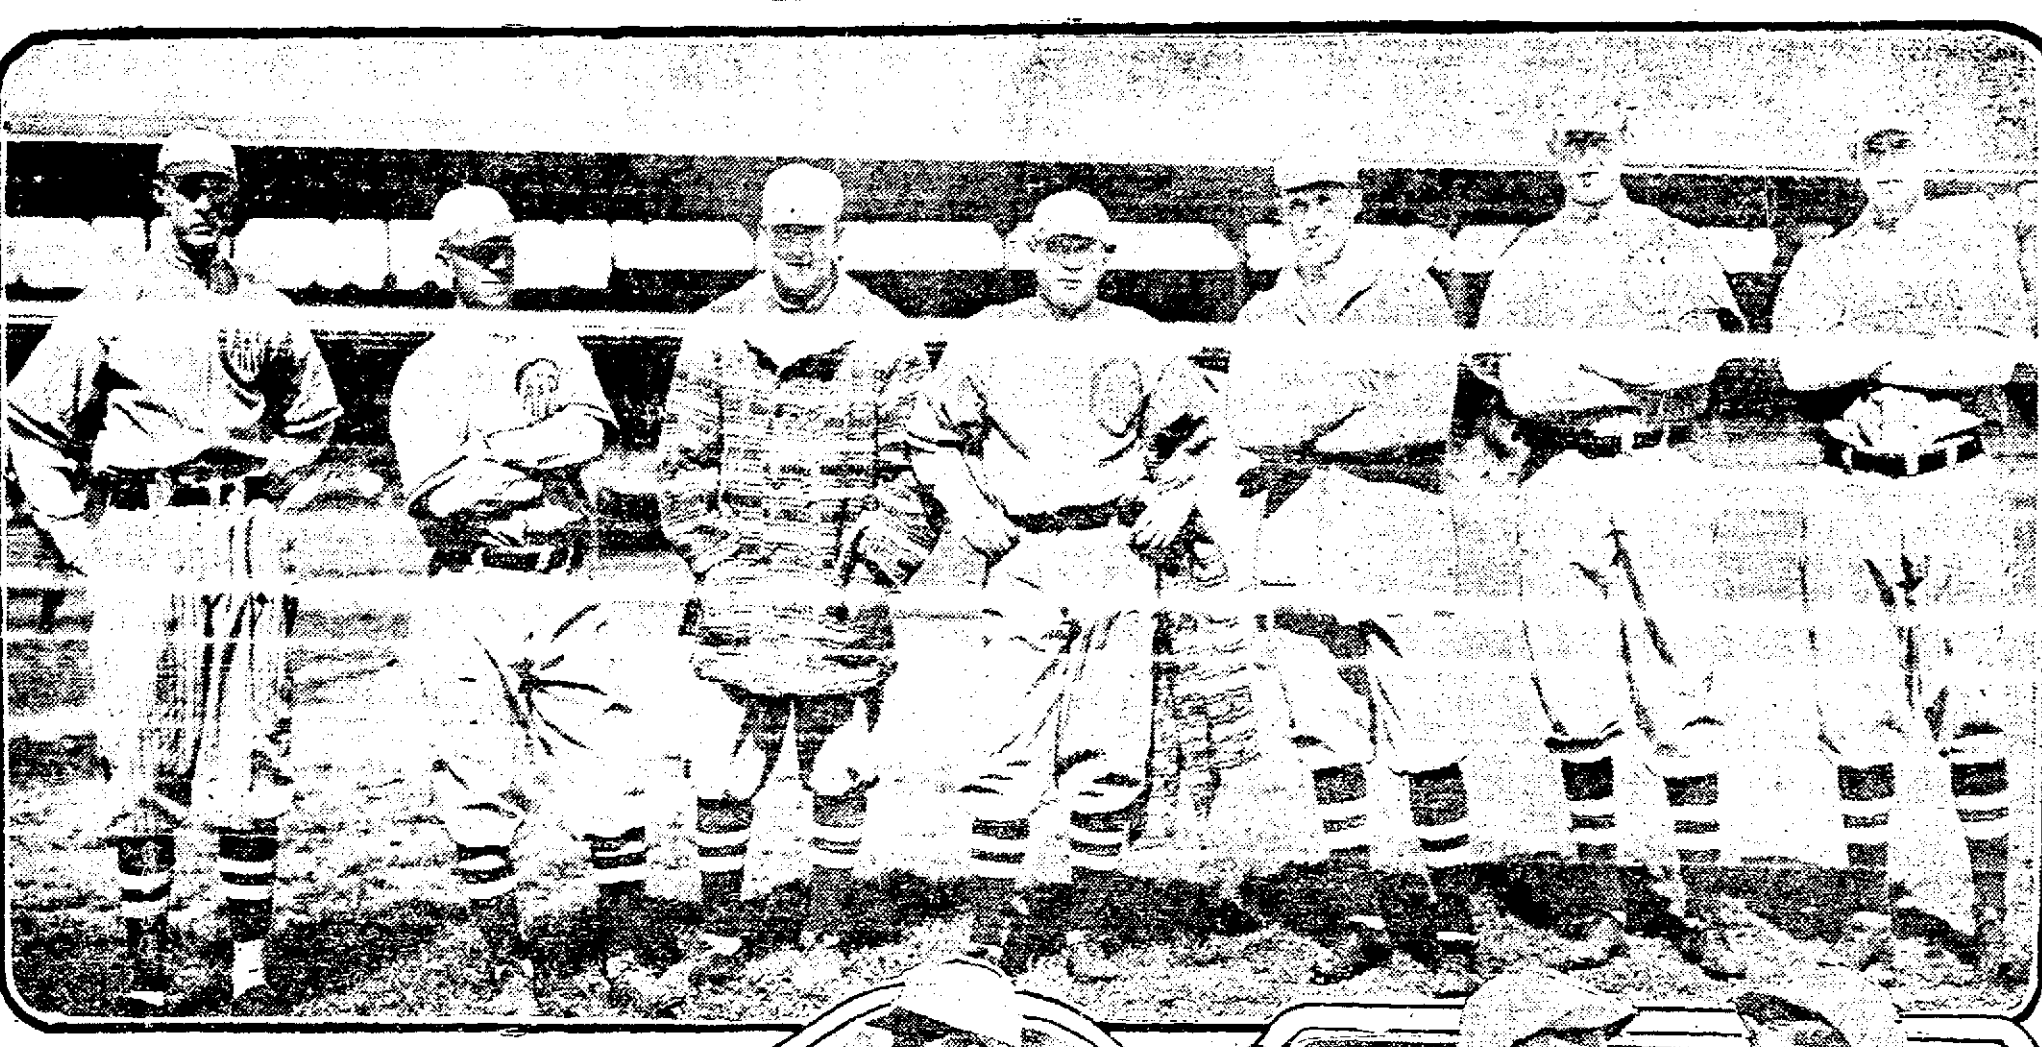

Manager Frank Dillon of the Angels says that he expects to see big "Bill" Abstein, their regular first sacker, with him assured hand, back in the game by Friday.

Compared to the Los Angeles team in 1900, the Oaks look like giants. Barranpant, Prough and one or two other of the Oaks, are tall, but the rest are rather small, while on the Los Angeles team were many players who were tall, some of the old-time players, among them being Love, McKerr, Dillon and others.

With the addition of Charlie Prough to the team the Oaks now have more good players than the Angels, and the Angels are now in a bad way.

Rube Pitched to 13,742 Batters

CHICAGO, April 2.—Statisticians today figured that during the fifteen years of his professional career, Rube Waddell, who died yesterday in a sanitarium at San Antonio, Texas, pitched to 13,742 batters.

It was figured the batters made a total of 299 safe hits, an average of only .210. These hits were spread over 408 games and netted 1124 runs, about 2.74 runs per game.

DUAL MEET SATURDAY.
BERKELEY, April 2.—A squad of twelve track men and ten ball players from Pomona College are practicing on the California campus. The southern team will meet the varsity in a dual track meet Saturday before the Stanford ball game, at which time Coach Christie will enter many of his famous athletes.

Twelve of the batters claim never have anything on the ball, but every year the average show that he wins 60 per cent of his games.

Ben Berry has named "Slim" Love from the Los Angeles baseball headquarters. This ruling was not made because of Slim's character, but because the elongated heavy destroys about several hundred dollars' worth of electrical fixtures.

Slim wandered into Berry's office at Washington Park the other day and proceeded to try on a sweater. When standing in an upright position he measures Slim stuck one arm through a sweater sleeve, and in the process removed a major portion of Ben's fancy chandler with numerous high-class light shades attached. After the crash Slim allowed the ceiling was too low for a regular man to move around freely. At that the lights were only eleven feet off the floor. Yes, only eleven feet!

Billy Fitz Says he:

Elmer Zacher, the heavy-hitting Oak outfielder, is dissatisfied with his job and has asked to be traded to some other club. Del Howard of the Seals is hot on Zacher's trail and has offered the Oakland management a pitcher and an infielder in exchange. The men offered so far do not, in Devlin's estimation, measure up to the value of Zacher, and he has refused to consider Howard's proposition.

Devlin wants to retain Zacher for use against left-handed pitchers, but as there are comparatively few left-handers in the league, Zacher foresees that he will be decorating the bench for the greater part of the year. Zacher has been accustomed to being considered a valuable asset to a team and does not wish to be relegated to the utility role.

Private advices from Los Angeles indicate that Zacher, as soon as he learned that Devlin contemplated using him in center field only against southpaws, went to his boss and urgently requested that he be traded to some other club. There is a lot of good baseball in Zacher yet, and he certainly would prove of great value to the Seals. Devlin will hardly let go of the blond hitter though and leave himself without a right hand hitting outfielder.

George Upp, who pitched in the American Association and in the minors, has applied to the Oakland club for a trial. Upp is a southpaw and former teammate of Jake Gossard. Gossard, who is of Upp and has recommended him to Devlin, who may take the twirler into the fold.

"Best use chinning," Jack Ryan is the best spring pitcher in the business. He will try to duplicate his feat last year of twirling a no-run no-hit game. It was tough that Jack Killaly, hero of many 1-0 defeats last year, should run up against Ryan so soon. Barenkamp will probably go in for the Oaks today with Crabbs opposing him.

"Rube" Borton seems to be under the impression that his team makes should relieve him of as much work as possible. Instead of covering the home plate when Rube was running Tobin down near third, Borton reported on the pillow at first. The result being that Tobin got away from him and scampered home with the plate ball and the Oakland desert.

The veteran Cack Henry will pitch at Venice today against his old team mates, while Del Howard will send in Bill Center. It will thus be a battle of cast-offs.

The advantage of sliding to first base was shown in the first inning when Bayless jumped into first and got a decision from Guthrie on a play where it looked as though he was surely out. There is no question but such a play confuses the umpire and benefits the batter nine times out of ten.

Technician and his "one bad inning" are here in the Trolley league game today. Turned to the sink for Venice yesterday and showed the same as ever; well, he showed little else out of a deceptive delivery to first base which is really a balk, and was called such yesterday by George Hays.

Burns Thinks He Can Duck Mason's 'One-Two' Punches

With over a week to train with his match with George Mason, Frankie Burns is already down to weight. "I am lighter than I have been for years, also I am feeling better," said Frankie today.

Frankie has been training hard for this fight as he realizes that he is up against a tough opponent. Mason's showing against O'Leary proves him to be worthy of the Oakland idol's mettle. "I know that this boy Mason has a wonderful one-two punch but that same one-two is of very little value when the owner can't make it connect. I figure that I can easily evade those punches and at the same time get my right to working occasionally," said Burns as he stepped into the ring for a four round

SOUTH END CREW TO WELSH IS OLD-TIMER, BUT NOT HAS BEEN

The South End Rowing club eight-oared crew will oppose the Stanford University eight next Saturday on the Alameda estuary.

The race promises to excite more than usual attention in rowing circles, as it will afford a basis of comparison between the Stanford crew and the University of California eight, which meet in the annual intercollegiate contest a week from Saturday.

NEVADA OBJECTS TO SANTA CLARAS

April 2.—The University of Nevada has protested all at the University of Santa Clara variety baseball game, with the exception of the pitcher. The intercollegiate game between the two universities is scheduled for Saturday at 2 p. m.

MIDDLEWEIGHTS EXPRESS CONFIDENCE IN THEIR OWN ABILITY

"Don't Expect Anything Easy," Says Indian, But I'm Due to Win."

(By JIMMY CLABBY.)
I have heard from good sources that Murray is a hard one, and his defeat of Leo Houck brands him as worthy of a great deal of consideration. I do not expect an easy victory, and do not ever know what plan of action I will take. It has always been my plan to use the first couple of rounds to study my opponent, instead of taking someone's work for his weak points.

Well, if he has it all into me the first thing, for I always start my selling process at the bottom and work upward. I have made a little special preparation in stomach work but it will not spoil my plan of action if I find I have been misinformed. That I expect to beat Murray can go without saying. My longer experience and superior knowledge of the game will do the job.

(By FIGHTING BILLY MURRAY.)
That I will beat Clabby I am confident, otherwise I would not be fighting him as soon in my career. I realize that I am going up against the man who is considered by most of the fans as the middleweight champion. My defeat of Houck entitles me to full consideration as a claimant to the title, and I am going to make the most of my opportunities. I see where they have branded my stomach as not capable of receiving punishment.

Well all I have to say is that the longer Clabby monkeys with my mid-section the less he will bother me generally.

The usual quiet that precedes a battle prevails in the rival training camps of the middleweight claimants today. Both fighters are in fine condition and down to weight, so they have nothing to worry about except the outcome of the fight. As to the outcome of the match, both of them can tell you who will win, but their answers aren't the same.

The betting odds are strongly favoring Clabby. Indications point to his being a two to one bet before the fight. Murray, however, is not troubled by this; he just remembers the way the fans made Leo Houck a favorite over him. He also remembers how the fans were fooled.

If Clabby wins tomorrow night it means that he will be recognized almost universally as the middleweight champion. His decisive victories over Leo Houck, McGorty and Logan added to a defeat of Murray would leave him king.

Murray's victory would practically give him the title, but for the present would complicate matters somewhat, as the middleweight crown would then be more disputed than ever.

The ticket sale for the Clabby-Murray go is very promising, especially in Oakland where the crowd going to the big fights. Two hundred reservations have been made by Promoter Conforth for Sacramento fans. A special train has been engaged to bring the fans to the scene of the fight.

This will be the first open air night boxing match at Daly City, but conditions promise to be good. Arc lights will make the arena as bright as day.

MOOSE BOXERS TO PUT SCIENCE INTO THE PROGRAM

Glove Champions Will Offer Exhibitions Which Women May Attend.

The committee in charge of the big Moose boxing benefit, which will take place at the Piedmont pavilion on the evening of Saturday, April 4, are well pleased with the ticket sale. The way the members of the order and their friends are getting in line with the spirit of the event is a credit to the committee who have taken the responsibility of the arrangements.

The exact nature of the entertainment to be furnished by the individual performers has not yet been made public, but to the stars of pugilism as Willie Ritchie, Sam McAllister, Ham Tommy Murphy and Joe Azevedo perform will certainly furnish an attractive evening.

LARRY CHAPPELL FAST RECOVERING

Larry Chappell, known as the $16,000 dollar fighter, is getting out of the Chicago White Sox lineup several weeks ago, on account of an infected foot, is now out of danger and well on the way to recovery.

Larry neglected a branched place on his big toe until the infection had spread through his entire foot and blood poison put him out of the game. For several days the doctors were doubtful about his foot, but the offending member is now doing nicely.

Dr. Dudley Smith said today that Chappell would be able to go to join his team by the end of the week, and would probably be in playing form within a month or six weeks.

Yesterday was Larry's first day out of bed and the big fellow gladly took up his physician's permission to decorate a porch chair.

CRICKET CLUB ELECTIONS

The annual meeting of the Golden Gate Cricket Club took place Tuesday night at 112 Golden Gate avenue, San Francisco, and the following officers were elected: President, Mr. A. Carnegie Ross; vice-president, Mr. J. Tarsel; secretary and Treasurer, Mr. C. E. Stevenson. Mr. H. A. Orenham was appointed captain of the cricket team with Mr. Singer to assist him as vice-captain. There will be practices at the stadium Saturday at 2 p. m. and Sunday morning from 11 a. m. to 1:30 p. m.

MONEY WANTED

A GOOD INVESTMENT.
Just this! Keep your funds (and don't know what amount) safely and profitably invested in LOAN & SON, INC.
When you have $20 or any larger amount on hand not needed at present, invest it in a certificate and have it earn 6%. When you have paid in 20 installments of $20 each you get a $400 certificate or 1-10th of a $4000 mortgage on property worth over $1000.
If you have $400 you may pay for the certificate in one payment, or buy as many certificates as you desire, or you may purchase an entire first mortgage farm loan, $400 up to $10,000. You will be surprised at the resultant profit.
We shall be pleased to further explain these investments.

MONEY WANTED

A GOOD INVESTMENT.
Just this! Keep your funds (and don't know what amount) safely and profitably invested in LOAN & SON, INC.
When you have $20 or any larger amount on hand not needed at present, invest it in a certificate and have it earn 6%. When you have paid in 20 installments of $20 each you get a $400 certificate or 1-10th of a $4000 mortgage on property worth over $1000.
If you have $400 you may pay for the certificate in one payment, or buy as many certificates as you desire, or you may purchase an entire first mortgage farm loan, $400 up to $10,000. You will be surprised at the resultant profit.
We shall be pleased to further explain these investments.
